

Using of the Informed Consent in the psychological practice in Ukraine

Naydonova L.A.

The problem of ethical guaranteeing of professional apply social psychological work is actual in Ukraine. Informed consent is one from ethical standards to provide of the respect for the dignity of persons.

The experience of the Informed consent (on example of the Institute projects) during last three years is presented.

The Informed consent form and using it as the instrument for the organization of the event for group-reflectivity process is discussed.

The discuss of Ukrainian Informed consent perception and behavioral reaction, which are in process of reaching an agreement to work collaboratively, versus other social-cultural contexts members is inquired.